1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Purpose

The purpose of this document is to provide Gunson Resources Limited (Gunson) personnel with guidelines for the trading of shares in accordance with the Company's Share Trading Policy, including:

- (a) a brief summary of the law on insider trading, and other relevant laws;
- (b) a summary of the restrictions on dealing in shares by people who work for or are associated with Gunson Resources Limited and its subsidiary companies (Gunson Resources Ltd or the Company); and
- (c) assistance in maintaining market confidence in the integrity of dealings in Gunson shares.

If you do not understand any part of this procedure, the Company policy or how it applies to you, you should discuss the matter with the Company Secretary before dealing in any Gunson shares.

1.2 Statement of Policy

Whenever you have inside information which may affect the value of shares, you must not:

- (a) deal in the shares; or
- (b) communicate the information to anyone else outside the Company.

This prohibition applies regardless of how you learned the information. It applies not only to Gunson shares. Shares are defined in section 2.2 below.

The concepts of "inside information", "shares", "dealings" and "communicating information" are explained below.

A copy of the Gunson Share Trading Policy and this Share Trading Procedure will be provided to all Gunson personnel.

2. APPLICATION

2.1 Who is covered by the Company's Share Trading Policy

The Company's Share Trading Policy and Share Trading Procedure will apply to all:

- (a) directors; and
- (b) full-time, part-time and casual employees, of Gunson (Gunson Personnel).

2.2 What shares are covered?

The Company's Share Trading Policy and Share Trading Procedure will apply to the following shares:

- (a) Gunson shares;
- (b) any other securities which may be issued by Gunson such as options and performance rights;
- (c) derivatives (such as exchange-traded options and warrants) and other financial products issued by third parties in relation to Gunson shares; and
- (d) shares of any other company or entity that may be affected by inside information (such as a Gunson joint venture partner, another party involved in a corporate transaction with Gunson or a Gunson contractor or shareholder).

2.3 What is dealing?

For the purposes of the Company's Share Trading Policy and this Share Trading Procedure, dealing in shares includes:

- (a) trading in shares (ie subscribing for, buying, selling or entering into an agreement to do any of those things); and
- (b) advising, procuring or encouraging another person (such as a family member, friend, associate, colleague, broker, financial planner, investment adviser, family company or family trust) to trade in shares.

2.4 What is communicating information?

Communicating information includes passing it on to another person (such as a family member, friend, associate, colleague, broker, financial planner, investment adviser, family company or family trust).

3. CONCEPTS AND PROHIBITED CONDUCT

3.1 What is insider trading?

In broad terms, you will commit insider trading if you:

- (a) deal in Gunson shares or shares of another entity while you have inside information; or
- (b) communicate inside information to another person knowing (or where you should have reasonably known) that the other person would, or would be likely to use that information to deal in, or procure someone else to deal in, shares. This is commonly known as "tipping".

Individuals who contravene the insider trading provisions of the Corporations Act are liable to prosecution or to civil penalty action by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission. In a criminal prosecution, the maximum penalty for an individual is $220,000 and/or 5 years' imprisonment. In a civil penalty proceeding, a penalty of up to $200,000 may be imposed. In both cases, the offender may be ordered to pay compensation to anyone who suffered loss as a result of the insider trading.

Separately, someone who engages in insider trading may be sued by another party or Gunson in a civil action, for any loss suffered as a result of the insider trading.

3.2 What is inside information?

Inside information is information that:

- (a) is not generally available to people who commonly invest in shares; and
- (b) if it was generally available, would (or would be likely to) influence experienced investors in deciding whether or not to subscribe for, purchase or sell Gunson shares or shares of another entity.

It does not matter how you come to have the inside information - for example, whether you learn it in the course of carrying out your responsibilities, or in passing in the corridor, or in the lift or at a dinner party.

The financial impact of the information is important but strategic and other implications can be equally important in determining what amounts to inside information. The definition of "information" is broad enough to include rumours, matters of supposition, intentions of a person (including Gunson) and information which is not definite enough to warrant public disclosure.

3.3 What are some examples of inside information?

The following list is illustrative only. Inside information about Gunson could include:

- (a) information relating to significant projects, contractors or tenders;
- (b) information relating to Gunson's financial results or forecast results;
- (c) a possible sale or acquisition of material assets by Gunson;
- (d) a possible change in Gunson's capital structure (for example, a new issue of capital/equity to raise monies or a buy-back of shares);
- (e) a proposed dividend or change in dividend policy;
- (f) board or senior management changes;
- (g) an event which could have a material impact (either positively or negatively) on projects, production or profits (for example, significant change to a contract or customer, a significant safety or environmental incident);
- (h) a proposed change in the nature of Gunson's business;
- (i) a proposed takeover or merger involving Gunson;
- (j) a notification to ASX of a substantial shareholding in Gunson;
- (k) any information required to be disclosed to ASX under its continuous disclosure rules; and
- (l) any possible claim against Gunson or other unexpected liability.

3.4 Shares of other companies

The prohibition on insider trading is not restricted to information affecting Gunson shares. If you possess inside information in relation to shares of another company or entity, you must not deal in those shares. In the course of your duties as an employee, director, adviser, consultant or contractor of Gunson, you may obtain inside information in relation to another company. For example:

- (a) in the course of negotiating a transaction with Gunson, another company might provide confidential information about itself;
- (b) in the course of negotiating a transaction with Gunson, another company might provide confidential information about a third party; or
- (c) information concerning a proposed transaction or other action by Gunson might have a material effect on a third party.

4. WHAT OTHER CONDUCT IS PROHIBITED?

4.1 Short term dealing

The Board discourages short term or speculative dealing in Gunson shares.

4.2 Hedging

If you are a director or employee of Gunson who participates in a Gunson equity-based incentive plan (for example, a share or option plan), you must not enter into any transaction which would have the effect of hedging or otherwise transferring to any other person the risk of any fluctuation in the value of any unvested entitlement in Gunson shares.

An unvested entitlement is a Gunson share or option which is still subject to time and/or performance hurdles.

4.3 Margin loans

You are not permitted to enter into a margin loan or other financing arrangement where there is a risk that Gunson shares will be traded pursuant to the terms of the margin loan or financing arrangement (together a Margin Loan), unless you have obtained prior written consent of the Chairman to enter into the Margin Loan and disclose to the Chairman the following information regarding the Margin Loan (Loan Information):

- (a) key terms;
- (b) number of Gunson shares involved;
- (c) the trigger points;
- (d) the right of the lender to sell the shares unilaterally; and
- (e) any other material details.

If you are the Chairman of Gunson and you intend to enter into a Margin Loan, you must obtain the prior written consent of the Board to enter into the Margin Loan and disclose to the Board, the Loan Information.

4.4 Blackout periods

Unless otherwise approved by the Board in exceptional circumstances (for example, genuine and pressing need), you are not permitted to deal in Gunson shares during the blackout periods:

- (a) the period commencing fifteen (15) days before the proposed date of release of the quarterly cash flow report to ASX and concluding two (2) business days after such release;
- (b) the period commencing seven (7) days before the proposed date of release of the Company's Annual Report to ASX and concluding two (2) business days after such release; and
- (c) such other periods advised by the Board or the Managing Director (such as prior to the announcement to ASX of a significant matter or event).

4.5 Exceptional Circumstances

Where in exceptional circumstances and it being the only reasonable course of action available to a director or employee (e.g. a pressing financial commitment that cannot be satisfied otherwise than by the trade) clearance may be given for the person to sell (but not to purchase) securities when he/she would otherwise be prohibited from doing so under this Share Trading Procedure. The Chairman will determine whether the circumstances are exceptional for this purpose and give written approval for the dealing.

4.6 Share Trading Procedure Exclusions

The following trading does not fall under this Share Trading Procedure:

1. trading in a managed securities portfolio (other than a portfolio that only invests in the securities of the Company) and where the person is not in a position to influence choices in that portfolio;
2. where the trade results from a dividend reinvestment plan where the person has given ongoing instructions to reinvest dividends;
3. where the trade is as a result of subscription for shares the subject of a current prospectus or other form of disclosure document the Company has on issue;
4. where the trade is a transfer of securities of the Company that are already held into a superannuation fund or other saving scheme in which the director or employee is a beneficiary;
5. undertakings to accept, or the acceptance of, a takeover offer;
6. trading under an offer or invitation made to all or most of the security holders, such as a rights issue, a security purchase plan, a dividend or distribution reinvestment plan and an equal access buyback where the plan that determines the timing and structure of the offer has been approved by the Board. This includes decisions relating to whether or not to take up the entitlements and the sale of entitlements required to provide for the take up of the balance of entitlements under a renounceable pro-rata issue;
7. the exercise (but not the sale of securities following exercise) of an option or right under an employee incentive scheme, or the conversion of a convertible security, where the final date for the exercise of the option or right, or the conversion of the security, falls during a prohibited period and the Company has been in an exceptionally long prohibited period or the Company has had a number of consecutive prohibited periods and the director or employee could not reasonably have been expected to exercise it at a time when free to do so;

8. allowing entitlements to lapse under a rights issue or other offer (including an offer of shares in lieu of a cash dividend);
9. bona fide gifts to a Director by a third party;
10. the cancellation or surrender of an option under an employee share scheme;
11. the purchase of Securities or the communication of information pursuant to a requirement imposed by law; and
12. transfers of Securities by an independent trustee of an employee share scheme to a beneficiary who is not a Person.

Options in the Company may be exercised at any time in accordance with their terms of issue (including during the trading window) subject to the prohibitions on insider trading set out in the Corporations Act. Any subsequent sale of such securities will be subject to the terms of this Share Trading Procedure.

The Company advises directors and employees to defer trades if an announcement of a major event or the release of price-sensitive information is likely to occur shortly after a proposed trade, even if it is inside the trading window to avoid the potential for breaches of insider trading legislation.
