FIRST HALF FY26 RESULT

H1 FY26 SUMMARY

- Expanded product suite with Flamingo architecture; first contract secured in December 2025
- Recurring revenue¹ of A$11.6M, 85% of total revenue; 78% coverage of OPEX
- Total revenue of A$13.7M, down 23% on pcp² largely due to fewer one-off capital licence deals
- OPEX decline of 6% on pcp reflecting lower staff costs and realisation of operating efficiencies
- Cash of A$18.5M at 31 December 2025 and no debt (30 June 2025: A$23.1M)

Mach7 Technologies Limited (“Mach7” or the “Company”) (ASX:M7T), a healthcare software company that enables health systems to securely store, access and share diagnostic images across disparate systems, today provides its half year results for the six months ended 31 December 2025.

Mach7 CEO and Managing Director Teri Thomas said: “My first six months as CEO have focused on establishing the foundations for sustainable, profitable growth. We reset the Company’s strategy, launched the Flamingo architecture to expand future revenue pathways, rebuilt our sales and marketing model, and undertook a comprehensive operational review. This included streamlining headcount, optimising infrastructure and licensing arrangements, and renegotiating key vendor contracts. These actions have strengthened our cost discipline and enabled us to redirect resources toward product innovation and commercial execution.

“Our Flight Crew model has enhanced customer engagement and contributed to improved KLAS performance for the eUnity Viewer. In parallel, we are advancing a focused product roadmap supported by targeted R&D investment, while aligning our cost base with growth priorities.

“Mach7 is now a more focused and efficient organisation, with early momentum behind our Flamingo solutions. With a clear strategic direction and a strong balance sheet, we are well positioned to drive commercial growth and deliver sustainable returns.”

FINANCIAL RESULT

H1 FY26 revenue of A$13.7M, was 23% lower on pcp due to lower one-off capital software licence revenue, a reduction in recurring revenue following customer churn and lower professional services revenue. Recurring revenue accounted for 85% of total revenue and coverage of operating expenditure was 78% in H1 FY26.

Operating expenses of A$14.8M were 6% lower on pcp mainly due to lower employment expenses (down 6%) and the realisation of operating efficiencies across the business.

¹ Recurring revenue consists of Subscription revenue and Maintenance and Support revenue recognised.

² Prior corresponding period (pcp)

Adjusted EBITDA of -A$2.3M (H1 FY25: A$0.8M) was lower on pcip as the lack of one-off capital software sales more than offset the reduction in operating costs.³

In H1 FY26, Mach7 capitalised $0.4M in development costs associated with R&D projects (H1 FY25: A$0.5M). This largely related to an R&D project that commenced in FY24 and was completed in 1H FY26 at a total cost of approximately A$0.9M. This project is expected to reduce Mach7's Cost of Sales by approximately A$1.0M on an annualised basis when fully implemented.

NPATA⁴ of -A$2.7M (H1 FY25: A$1.4) and NPAT of -A$5.7M (H1 FY25: -A$1.9M) were lower on pcip largely due to the revenue decline in H1 FY26.

Mach7's financial position remains strong with no debt and A$18.5M cash on hand at 31 December 2025 (30 June 2025: A$23.1M).

OUTLOOK

Mach7 continues to be a leading innovator in the enterprise imaging space, with a portfolio of interoperable solutions. As provider consolidation reshapes the healthcare landscape, Mach7 is well positioned to capitalise on these shifts, supported by a strong installed base and the continued global adoption of enterprise imaging.

As H2 FY26 progresses, Mach7 has a refined strategy, a stronger operational foundation and improving commercial momentum. The Company remains focused on disciplined cost management while selectively investing in growth-critical capabilities across sales execution, product development and platform scalability, including a significantly expanded marketing program to modernise its brand and market engagement. Underpinned by a re-energised sales and partner model and early traction for its Flamingo solutions, Mach7 remains confident in its ability to deliver against its strategy and capture emerging market opportunities.
